

Dear colleagues,

As you are preparing your trip to attend the AAHPERD annual conference, I would like to remind you of the ICSPAHA social on Thursday April 2nd. The ICSPAHA will have a General Assembly and a social from 4pm to 7pm at Fushia Asian Bistro from 4-7pm. A catered dinner is included for the social.

We are glad to announce that Dr. James Zhang from University of Florida is generously sponsoring the ICSPAHA social in Tampa. In representing the Executive Committee, I would like to invite you and all Chinese professionals, including professionals from Mainland, Hong Kong, Macau, Taiwan, and those who are working or visiting in the US to attend our social. Meanwhile, you are cordially invited to join the ICSPAHA. If you are interested, more information is available on our website at www.icspah.org.

For those who helped the review process for the Pre-Olympic conference (Guangzhou, 2008) coordinated by ICSPAHA, your certificate will be distributed during the ICSPAHA social. Please advise if you are not attending AAHPERD and hope to receive it by mail.

During the social, you will have opportunities to meet an official delegation from China Sport Science Society, and a representative of China Council for the Promotion of Applied Technology Exchanges with Foreign Countries, and some visiting scholars from mainland China. As an organization, we hope to offer a platform to facilitate collaborative opportunities between our members here in the US as well as colleagues and institutions in China and other countries in the world.

Again, please accept my invitation and feel free to call me at (812) 391-9898 or Dr. Xiaofen Keating, ICSPAHA secretary at 949-338-0136 during the AAHPERD conference.

Thank you and I look forward to seeing you in Tampa.
